FORTY-THREE SENIOR MEDS. GET DEGREES

Results Announced at Meeting Saturday Night.

SEVERAL WILL ENLIST.

O. V. Marsh, T. M. Richardson Lamb is Senior Prizeman. Get Aggregate Honors: A. S.

McGill has forty-three more graduates of its Faculty of Medicine as a result of the recent Fifth Year examinations. The class of Medicine '17 learned of their results at a meeting held in the New Medical Building on Saturday evening, when the class business was wound up and reports on the graduation picture and other business presented. Dr. A. S. Lamb, president of the class, occupied the chair.

Dr. F. J. Scully reported upon the forthcoming Medical Dinner, and urged a large attendance on the part of the graduating class. Dr. L. M. Matthews was chosen to represent officially the class at the dinner. A raffle of the class banner was conducted, in which Dr. Skin Lawrence appeared with the paper.

Major R. S. Muckleston, of No. 4 Training Depot of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, was present, and laid before the meeting details in connection with enlistment in this branch of the service, in which a number of members of the class have already signified their intention of joining.

Dr. John W. Scane, Registrar of the Faculty of Medicine, attended the meeting and read to the Fifth Year men the results of the recent examinations. The aggregate honors man of the year is Dr. O. V. Marsh, with Dr. T. M. Richardson second. Dr. Arthur S. Lamb has been awarded the senior Medical prize. At the wish of the class, the awards of the Wood and Holmes prizes have been withheld in order that former students of the class who have been on active service and are now completing their course will be enabled to be candidates.

Convocation will be held to-morrow at the New Medical Building, when the class baby, Master Roland Lamb, will be present.

The successful graduates are:

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR ROOTERS' CLUB

Practices are to Be Held at the Union—Song Parodies Wanted.

Starting with to-day, the different class presidents in each faculty will bring before their classes the plans of the Rooters' Club for next Monday's game with Laval. That done, it only remains for the men themselves to turn out en masse in order that the evening may be a success. All members of the hockey team feel that they are up against a hard proposition, but, with the aid of the rooters' club (and this will play no small part), they feel confident that they will be able to do the trick.

The parade will line up on Sherbrooke St., between the Union and Strathcona Hall, and will be separated into the various faculties and classes. In this way and various class yell, in addition to the McGill yell, will be able to be given during the march out to the arena. The Band are to escort the rooters to the rink, and will also assist in singing some of the old songs that were characteristic of the Rooters' Clubs of old. A section on the West side of the rink has been reserved for the Rooters, and, in order to facilitate matters, tickets will be on sale at the Union all week. Three practices will be held, one on Tuesday at 5.30 (after drill), another on Thursday at 7 p.m. (before drill), and the third at a later date, all three to take place in the Union. Everybody is asked to keep these dates open.

No better cheer leader could be had than "Bill" Hughes, and it is only hoped that the men will give him support by turning out for the practices. It is also rumored that there is a possibility of a smoker being held in the Union after the game, but nothing definite is known about this as yet.

Parodies for use at the game are wanted by the committee in charge of the demonstration. These may be addressed to "Bill" Hughes at the Union.

REMINISCENCES BY POULTNEY BIGELOW

Eminent Scholar, and Acquaintance of Kaiser, Will Address the McGill Canadian Club.

Mr. Poultny Bigelow, who will speak to the McGill Canadian Club in the Assembly Hall of the Union at 5 o'clock this afternoon, has had an exceedingly interesting career. "I have crossed the ocean ninety times, three of the trips under sail," he writes in his Prussian memoirs. "Four times have I circumnavigated the globe once under sail. I have been in three shipwrecks, and as many times have

GAMES TO-NIGHT MOST VITAL IN LEAGUE SEASON

McGill-Loyola Game Will Furnish Greatest Interest.

LAVAL PLAYS NATIONALS.

Two French Teams Should Put up a Great Battle, with Laval Favorites.

After putting up three fast practices last week, the Senior Hockey team rested Saturday and Sunday in preparation for their struggle with Loyola to-night, in which the right to first place will be contested. All the men appeared to be in the best of form in their last practice, and should put up a great fight against the Notre Dame de Grace students in the opening game. It is expected that Behan will be able to start to-night's game, as the trouble with his eyes has disappeared, and with him in at the start, McGill ought to have more than even chance. At all events, to-night's game will be one of the features of the year, not only to McGill men, but also to the followers of the Laval and Shamrock teams, each of which still has a chance to take the honors in the league. In the second game, the two French teams, Nationals and Laval, will meet. Although Laval seem to have everything in their favor from their previous standing, Nationals are a team which are by no means easily disposed of, and they may give the East End students a close shave. The last game is not of as much interest in the league standing, but gives promise of being at least as close a game as that between Loyola and McGill. The Soldiers showed that they have good hockey in them by tying the Laval game last week, while Shamrocks are credited with administering McGill's only defeat. If the Soldiers manage to put the Shamrocks away to-night, the Shamrocks will have lost their chance to nose McGill or Loyola out. On the whole, with the possible exception of the McGill-Laval game of next week, the three games to-night seem to be the critical point in the schedule.

An especially good chance is afforded McGill men to get a line on their team to-night, in order to let them root more intelligently at the big Laval-McGill game next week.

The probable line-ups for to-night, and the numbers under which the individual players will appear, is as follows:—

WHEN FORTUNE KNOCKS.

An undergraduate of the modern University, speaking in general terms, or of McGill, speaking particularly, is overwhelmed with privileges and opportunities, the least of which are not to be despised. He is soon brought to a standstill and forced to face that confronting and perplexing problem: "Into what and to what extent can I, without endangering my academic prospects, take advantage of the many privileges at my disposal?" This question immediately suggests the necessity of intelligent discrimination. This we say is what is suggested to the average man. There are, it is true, a few—a very few—who are apparently capable of spreading themselves over all and absorbing at least a percentage of the benefit of each. However, though we generously make allowance for a possible exception or two, we are inclined to regard such a capacity as very superficial, not to say fictitious. More fortunate is the person who discriminately directs his interest and activity into channels, even though they be few, which promise to lead to something of some real worth. Having thus discriminated, he will adopt a system and allot to each duty a definite place in his time-table. Academic, social, athletic and other activities will then be carried on unconflictingly and to best advantage.

With such a system in vogue—and now we are getting at the real purpose of this article—the student will have sufficient spare time to allow him to seize other extraneous and unforeseen, yet very desirable opportunities, which continually present themselves. And these privileges are what we most particularly have in mind. The privilege of listening to the discourse of a man great in his vocation is one which is perhaps not always assigned its true value. Too often the plea of "another engagement," or "too much work" serves as an excuse for not attending such addresses. However, we consider this an opportune moment in which to turn over a new leaf. Fortune is about to knock again, and we hope that the response will be unanimous.

There is in particular one organization at McGill, namely, the Canadian Club, which fully appreciates Emerson's words: "great men exist that there may be greater men." The resolution of this club, at the commencement of the college year, to secure as its speakers men who had attained the top rung of eminence in their respective vocations, lead to the securing of Sir Herbert Tree last term. Those who were privileged to hear the great dramatist will certainly not complain of the Canadian Club's choice. To-night the success of last term will undoubtedly be repeated when Mr. Poultney Bigelow will deliver a most interesting address. This is certainly one of the opportunities which should not be let slip.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When Arthur Stanley Lamb walks away from Convocation tomorrow with his M.D., C.M., parchment tucked under his arm, the student body of the University will have lost one of the most devoted leaders which it has had in recent years. Ever since he registered in the First year of the University, "Dad" Lamb has been connected in a prominent way with undergraduate activities and never, in all the offices which he has held, has "Dad" been found wanting. A man with many interests outside the realm of student activities, and a student of brilliant order (as frequent prizes testify), Mr. Lamb nevertheless found time during the five years of his course to devote attention to even the smallest details of the various activities under his direction. Only those who have been in close touch with him know the amount of time and energy which he has spent upon student activities, and of the faithful manner in which he has discharged every duty to which he has been assigned. While he was president of the Athletic Association, Mr. Lamb brought that department of student activity to a high state of efficiency, and this spirit he instilled into his work as president of the Students' Society. The remarkable part of it all was that Mr. Lamb had any time at all left for his academic work, but more remarkable still was the fact that when the results of the year's work were announced, he invariably stood among the class leaders and usually had a prize or two thrown in as well. In view of the great service which Mr. Lamb has rendered to the student body of the University, it is peculiarly appropriate that he should be the president of his graduating class, and that his studies should be recognized with the senior Medical Society prize. Mr. Lamb's example in immediately offering his services to the Army medical authorities is one that undoubtedly will be followed by many of his class-mates. McGill Daily takes this opportunity of thanking him, on behalf of the students, for his years of service in the furthering of their interests and of wishing him the best of luck.

In another column of the Daily will be found an announcement as to the dates of the practices of the Rooters' Club for the Laval game next Monday night. See that you make no dates to conflict with these practices, as we want to show the people that the old time spirit is still alive at Old McGill. Get out to those meetings. They are one of the few things in which every man in the University can participate. You don't have to have a good voice from a musical standpoint; in fact the worse it is the better it will be for the success of the club. But don't in the excitement forget that there is a game this evening, a game that means a whole lot to the team, and one which we will have to win. The team say that there is nothing which helps so much as a good cheer at the crucial moment. Come out to the Arena this evening to help the team win this game.

Students of the University should grasp the chance that is given them to hear a man who has attracted not a little attention in both Canada and the Republic to the South of us lately on account of the Editor of the McGill Daily:

Dear Sir,—It is surprising to note that, while some of our clubs and societies around college this year are laboring under great difficulties to maintain interest, others are displaying an amazing amount of apathy. The particular one I have in mind is the Science Undergraduate Society. Whatever is the matter with the executive of the Society this year? In previous years we have had an opportunity of hearing some prominent man in a particular branch of the engineering profession every second or third week throughout the session while this year we have only had one or two altogether. In fact the meetings have been so few and far between that I venture to say there are a large number of Freshmen who are totally unaware of the existence of this society, in spite of the fact that a set sum of the universal fee goes to the Undergraduate Society. It is true that the attendance at those that have been held was very poor, but this is no excuse for their being discontinued. Probably, if a little more discretion had been shown in choosing the date of one of these, and if the other had been brought before the students' attention in a better manner, the result would have been different. We all recognize the fact that it is much harder to run some of the societies this year on account of the war, but I see no logical difficulty in getting speakers on engineering subjects. The smaller clubs are having no difficulty in getting speakers to address them.

I think I am not putting it too strongly in saying that there remain only six more weeks of the session, in which meetings could be carried out with any degree of success. Are the executive going to wait until the bug-bear of examinations looms large over the Science man? If they do they are bound to have another fizzle. If they have a properly advertised meeting, with a good speaker, NOW (or in the near future), they CAN have a success. How about it?

Very truly yours,
WM. H. GERRIE,
Science '17.

been pronounced dead by expensive men of medicine. My studies have drawn me to every tropical colony, and my travels have been largely afoot, on horseback, or in a canoe. My adventures have been few, because it has been my practice to give careful study to the history of the countries I was about to visit. That is probably one reason why my dealings with natives have been uniformly satisfactory—whether in Zululand, or Borneo, China or New Guinea, the Black Sea or Baltic.

Mr. Bigelow's boyhood was spent in France and Germany. His father, the American Ambassador to France, sent him at an early age to school in Germany. The result was that Mr. Bigelow obtained an insight into the character of the German people possessed by few foreigners. This is especially true when we remember that Mr. Bigelow was chosen as one of the playmates of the present Kaiser. His account of the Indian games which he taught his companions is very amusing. The friendship with William the Second thus formed, lasted till the Boer war.

Thus Mr. Bigelow was able to observe the life of the different classes in Germany. His reminiscences in "Prussian Memoirs" are full of interest. He speaks of the rigid discipline of the preparatory school. The masters were rigid, conscientious Prussians. The whole system was governed by minute codes of rules. Perhaps one of the most amusing instances mentioned was that one when Mr. Bigelow was held up in his canoe in a Prussian canal. The lock-keeper kept him about an hour searching in his regulations for the correct toll for a canoe. Unable to find this he charged him the minimum rate—that for a four-ton boat. Equally amusing is the description of the German Governor of Kiaochow at his wit's ends because the rules and regulations contained no punishment for the crime of washing dishes in a bath tub.

Mr. Bigelow has an intimate knowledge of the conditions of the German army and navy. The discipline is extremely rigid. He has seen men knocked down by officers and non-coms, for the most trifling offences. The Emperor invited Mr. Bigelow to be his guest at all the grand manoeuvres. The word "manoeuvres" means to a Prussian not merely dressing men in military uniform and giving them a week of genteel outdoor life with tents, dress parades, and a careful cuisine—far from it. This little word means, to a large fraction of the whole male population, the rehearsal of real war. The cartridges are without bullets, but horses are killed, and men are maimed, and millions of dollars are each year destroyed by the participation of the United States in the struggle. The Canadian Club attitude he has taken in regard to the present war, and the non-part of McGill deserves much credit for bringing Mr. Bigelow here, and the best manner of showing that their action is appreciated would be for every student to be present at the Union this evening at 5 p.m. when Mr. Bigelow will speak.

The notices advertising Mr. Bigelow's address are undoubtedly attractive, and would make excellent souvenirs. However, their purpose is merely temporary, and they were not printed with the idea of permanently decorating students' rooms. Still the Executive of the Canadian Club is no doubt quite willing to oblige these ardent collectors of souvenirs, merely requesting that the signs be at least allowed to remain up until after Mr. Bigelow's address to-night.

McGILL SECONDS
DEFEAT LOYOLA
Second Team Came Through For Their First Victory in Junior League.

McGill's second hockey team came through with their first victory in the Junior League on Saturday, when they defeated Loyola at the Arena by the score of two to one. The game was a good one, Loyola scoring the only goal in the first period, and then letting McGill slip two by their goaltender in the second session. On Friday they defeated the Mount St. Louis College team at the Jubilee rink by the score of three to two. These were the first two victories for the club this season, and the men were much encouraged by their improved form. In their first game of the season they were the victims of the "Vics." They were later trimmed by Loyola, and this made victory doubly sweet on Saturday, as they had hardly expected to get away with the second Loyola game. The next game will be against the Fargo team, at the Victoria Rink on Wednesday from 7 to 8. The line-ups for Saturday's game were as follows:

McGill: Goal . . . Loyola: Timmins
Defence . . . Anotin
Forwards . . . Clemens
Loyola: Centre . . . Walsh
Wings . . . O'Halloran
McGill: Spares: McGibbon, Hunter, Naill, McIntyre.
Referees were Shaver and Aird.

Gathering ROSE QUESNEL Native Canadian Tobacco

About 30 days after the tops have been removed the tobacco plants show yellow spots on the leaves and the veins become brittle. The crop is then ready to be harvested and the planter is careful to secure it before any autumnal frost occurs, for the plant is among the first to feel its injurious influence. Judgment is also required in cutting the plants, and this operation is assigned to the best and most judicious hands employed in the culture. Each person so employed being provided with a strong sharp knife, proceeds along the respective rows of plants, and selects only such plants as appear fully ripe, leaving the rest a short time longer. After being cut, a half dozen leaves are spiked on a stick set in the earth so that the leaves will wilt. This requires from 4 to 5 hours during favorable weather and then the crop is hauled to the drying barn. Particular care is exercised in handling the leaves not to damage or bruise them in any way. It is no wonder then, that tobacco produced by such scientific and improved methods of culture is of such fine texture and color, and possesses such invaluable smoking qualities that it is often taken for imported tobacco. It is this tobacco which enters into the making of

SOLDIERS WHO TOOK FIRST DRILLS ON MCGILL CAMPUS HAVE RENDERED GLORIOUS SERVICE IN THE ARMY OVERSEAS SAYS LT.-COL. GREELMAN

Graduate Who Recently Won the D.S.O. has Warm Praise for the C.O.T.C. and for McGill's Representatives Overseas—Captain Basil L. Sawers, Undergraduate in Science, Awarded the Military Cross for Good Work With the Tunnellers of the Royal Engineers—Gunner George D. Miner, Sci. '16, Reported Dangerously Ill—Dr. Hamilton K. Wright, Medical Graduate Who Won Reputation for his Efforts to Combat the Opium Traffic, is Dead.

"The work done by the McGill University Officers' Training Corps has been excellent, and glorious services have been rendered by many who began their soldiering upon McGill Campus. May many more of the same type continue to come and to take up the good work, where others have had to give it up" is one of the striking passages in a letter received by the Students' Society from Lieutenant-Colonel J. J. Greelman, D.S.O., Law '07, in acknowledgment of its Christmas card sent overseas. Lieutenant-Colonel Greelman, who was lecturer in Railway Economics before he enlisted, is one of the original officers of the Canadian Field Artillery of the First Canadian Division. He is now officer in command of the 2nd Brigade, C.P.A., in France, and was recently decorated for his services.

Lieutenant-Colonel Greelman writes: "I duly received the Society's card of Christmas greeting, and it is good to know that one is not forgotten at Old McGill."

"You there have very important work to do while we here are trying to help finish the war before another Christmas Day comes around, and trust that each of us in our chosen sphere, will do his best during the present year of years, and that next Christmas will find most of us together 'somewhere at home,' instead of where we may now find ourselves."

"I wish the students of McGill very prosperous year, one and all, with the best of success in and out of classes."
"McGill University is well represented among my officers—Gordon Hanson, Alex McMurtry, Lee Strath, Eddy Savage—to mention only a few. Many unfortunately have gone never to return, but the good work commenced by them is being continued by more recent comers, who in turn must be replaced by men still in Canada, many of whom are still at Old McGill."

Lieut. Cyril C. Graham, Arts '15, with the 43rd Battery, C.P.A., also sends his acknowledgments, stating that he meets "many McGill men out here, and all seem to be enjoying the affair immensely."

Receives Military Cross.

Captain Basil L. Sawers, Sci. '15, has been awarded the Military Cross for distinguished service with the Royal Engineers at the front. He enlisted originally as a sapper in the 1st Field Company of Canadian Engineers, won his commission in the field, and has since been promoted to the rank of captain. When a section of the Canadian Contingent took part in the Lord Mayor's Parade in London, Sapper Sawers was one of the 300 chosen to represent the Canadians. His home is in Vancouver, and a brother, Lieut. Norman Sawers, has already won the Cross.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW.

"The session was one of great strain and continuous effort. With so many McGill men enrolled for active service, the great decrease from the normal number of our students was painfully apparent, and the teaching service also suffered by the enlistment of many of the best and brightest of the staff. The most the University could do was to adopt and make its own the national watch-word 'Carry on!' This is the spirit which animates us still in what is now the third year of the war." These are the opening words of the Annual Report of the Governors, Principal and Fellows of the University for the session which was released last week. The report gives a comprehensive outline of all the work accomplished by the University during last session, and pays particular attention to the war record of the University. A supplementary Roll of Honour published in connection with the report brings the total known enlistment of members of the staff, graduates, undergraduates and past students up to 1,745. Of these, up to December 1, 1916, 133 have been killed in action, and 160 wounded, while sixty-nine decorations have been awarded to McGill men for gallantry in the field.

The Roll of Honour up to December last is as follows:

HIGH INTEREST ON WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

For $21.50 Invested Now $25.00 Will be Returned in Three Years.

The new War Savings Certificates which have been created by the Government to encourage thrift and economy, and to give everyone an opportunity to assist in financing our war expenditure, are now on sale at every bank and money order post office in Canada. The $25 certificate sells for $21.50, the $50 for $43, and the $100 for $86.

As an investment these certificates offer many attractive features—chief of which are the absolute security and the excellent interest return. For every $21.50 lent to the Government now, $25 will be returned at the end of three years.

There are two other features which are especially interesting to small investors. First, the certificates may be surrendered at any time, if the buyer should need his money; and second, each certificate is registered at Ottawa in the buyer's name, and if lost or stolen, is therefore valueless to anyone else.

But while they are excellent from an investment standpoint, the certificates should appeal strongly to Canadians because they offer to those who must serve at home a splendid opportunity for a most important patriotic service. The person who honestly saves to the extent of his ability, and places his savings at the disposal of the Government by purchasing these certificates, may feel that he is having a direct share in feeding, equipping, and munitioning our Canadian soldiers, who are so nobly doing their part.

McGill defeated Nationals in the City League on Monday by a score of 3-1, and are still tied with Loyola for leadership in the League.

As a result of the recent examinations in the Faculty of Arts, thirteen First Year students have lost their standing, and will be required to repeat their year.

of one of the tunnelling sections of the 17th Royal Engineers. In a recent report General Haig referred to the splendid work done by the tunnelling companies, which far eclipsed that done by the German tunnelling companies. A second brother of Capt. Sawers, Pte. Owen Sawers, of the 10th Canadian Battalion, has been missing since April, 1915.

Advices from Victoria, B.C., state that Captain J. G. Anderson, of that city, past student of McGill, who was recently awarded the Military Cross for distinguished service at the front, has been promoted to the rank of major in further recognition of his gallantry in action.

Major Anderson enlisted with the 19th Alberta Dragoons at the outbreak of the war, received his commission in the field, and was awarded the Military Cross for carrying out "useful and daring reconnaissances." Only a short time ago he received his captaincy.

Previous to his enlistment, Major Anderson was a school teacher in British Columbia, having taken up educational work after leaving McGill. The distinguished young officer has a "lucky star," for although he has taken part in all the big engagements in which the Canadians have figured, he has been fortunate enough to escape unscathed. He and a subaltern were the only officers of C Company, 5th Canadian Battalion, to survive the fighting on the Ypres salient last June.

The Royal Military College of Canada

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government Institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instruction in all branches of military science to Cadets and Officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial Army, lent for the purpose, and there is in addition a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a soldier's modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and in addition the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually.

The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyors to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario, it obtains the same exemptions as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years in three terms of nine months each. The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material, and all extras is about $800.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the college takes place in May of each year at the headquarters of the several military districts.

For full particulars regarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont., or to the Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

hospital at Taplow. The jury returned a verdict of "suicide while temporarily insane."

Col. Alexander, the Canadian Judge Advocate General, was one of the witnesses. Testifying concerning the hospital administration at Taplow, Col. Alexander said nothing had been charged against the deceased except slight breaches of discipline, although the Judge Advocate General had been ordered, at the request of the Red Cross Society, not to allow Col. Gorrell to leave England.

Dr. Gorrell called upon him frequently, Col. Alexander said, asking when he would be permitted to return to Canada, as he had been relieved of his commission. The Judge Advocate General said he told him that the Red Cross wished him to remain in England, as the authorities in that society were not sure if they wanted another enquiry. The witness said Dr. Gorrell called upon him last Monday and that he advised him to apply direct to Sir George Perley for permission to go back to Canada. The doctor seemed very grieved, Col. Alexander said, and used to say: "Why do they hold me here? Why don't they let me go home?"

Mrs. Mary McDonagh, formerly of Regina, at whose house Dr. Gorrell lived, said that on Thursday the late Colonel asked her to witness his will. "This worry," he had said to her, "is more than any human being can stand. If they would only sentence me, or fine me. But I cannot stand the worry."

Saturday's casualty list states that Gunner George D. Miner, Sc. 16, of the Canadian Artillery, is reported dangerously ill. Gunner Miner, who was graduated in Electrical Engineering last year, enlisted in an artillery unit soon afterwards. At the University he was prominently connected with the Electrical Club and the Eastern Townships Club, his home being in Granby, Que.

Major Reid whose reputation as a football player with the 23rd Westmount Rifles, has been twice wounded with the 3rd Battalion, and has been three times mentioned in despatches. At last word he was serving on one of the tanks on the Somme.

Second Lieut. R. E. Moyse, Law '14, who has been on sick leave for some weeks, in the city at the home of his parents, Dr. Charles E. Moyse and Mrs. Moyse, has left for England, there to be sent to France to rejoin the Bedfordshire Regiment. Second Lieut. Moyse originally enlisted with the First Universities Company under Capt. Gregor Barclay, and was promoted from the ranks. He was wounded some time ago. Two other brothers are in khaki.

Delancey has been wounded and mentioned in despatches since he went to France with the 25th Battalion. Recently he was awarded the Military Cross.

Charles William Elderkin, Vancouver, announces the engagement of his daughter, Eleanor Cleveland, to Dr. Vaughan E. Black, Med. '16, of Moose Jaw (Sask.), the marriage to take place at Parrsboro (N.S.), the last of March.

MANDOLIN CLUB MEN URGED TO TURN OUT

Practices are Not as Well Attended as Might Be.

For some little time now, the practices of the Mandolin Club have shown a gradually decreasing attendance. This is by no means due to a lack of interest in the work of the Club, as the members usually turn out to an engagement in good numbers.

A practice, however, has a much more mutual effect, and serves its purpose to better advantage if the attendance embraces most of the members and not simply a few of them.

At the next practice, to be held to-night, one or two matters regarding our future programme will be brought up for discussion. There is now a live list of snappy music on hand and in hand, and it is being added to each week.

Practice to-night will be held at 7.15 in Mr. Peate's Studios. Let everyone make an effort to be present.

COLD CANCELS PARADE.

The C. O. T. C. parade on Saturday afternoon proved a pleasant surprise, and the unanimous opinion is that it quite exceeded anything held thus far. The Battalion fell in as usual at 2.45 p.m. on the Campus. The weather was bitterly cold, and the men shivered in the ranks, while the officers lined up in evident deploration of the rank which prevented them from wearing the comfortable ski cap. Amidst much stamping, blowing and freezing the roll call was at last taken, and the officers "fell in." Captain Simpson then announced that owing to the intensity of the cold, field manoeuvres could not be successfully carried out, and that the order of Lt.-Col. Stark was that the Battalion should be dismissed. Then came the welcome order—at least welcome to some, though scarcely as well received by others: "Numbers 2, 3 and 4 Platoons parade for musketry—Battalion dismiss!"

COLGATE CHEMISTS TO TRAVEL.

Plans have been outlined for an Easter trip of the chemistry students at Colgate University. The party will go first from Binghamton to Olean and then into Pennsylvania to visit some of the oil fields. Buffalo, N.Y., will be the last stop. Several factories will be visited in that city.

YALE HOLDS STRAW VOTE.

That Yale University is strongly in favor of universal compulsory military training in the United States was shown by the result of a straw ballot on the subject held there last week. The total number of votes polled amounted to 1,400, of which 1,112 or 79 per cent., were in favor of some form of universal training. In addition it was officially announced that two representative undergraduate bodies, the Yale Daily News and the Student Council, supported the majority. This may be taken as a clear indication of Yale's attitude in regard to the general idea of compulsory military service. However, no particular form was specified, nor was it advocated that any special bill should be discussed at present.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

DEPARTMENT OF COLONIZATION, MINES AND FISHERIES.

The chief minerals of the Province of Quebec are Asbestos, Chromite, Copper, Iron, Gold, Molybdenite, Phosphate, Mica, Graphite, Ornamental and Building Stone, Clays, Etc.

The Mining Law gives absolute security of Title and is very favourable to the Prospector.

MINERS' CERTIFICATES.

First of all, obtain a miner's certificate, from the Department in Quebec, or from the nearest agent. The price of this certificate is $10.00, and it is valid until the first of January following. This certificate gives the right to prospect on public lands and on private lands, on which the mineral rights belong to the Crown.

The holder of this certificate may stake mining claims to the extent of 200 acres.

WORKING CONDITIONS.

During the first six months following the staking of the claim, work on it must be performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days of eight hours.

SIX MONTHS AFTER STAKING.

At the expiration of six months from the date of the staking, the prospector, to retain his rights, must take out a mining license.

MINING LICENSE.

The mining license may cover 40 to 200 acres in unsurveyed territory. The price of this license is Fifty Cents an acre per year, and a fee of $10.00 on issue. It is valid for one year, and is renewable on the same terms, on producing an affidavit that during the year work has been performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days' labor on each forty acres.

MINING CONCESSION.

Notwithstanding the above, a mining concession may be acquired at any time at the rate of $5.00 an acre for SUPERIOR METALS, and $3.00 an acre for INFERIOR METALS.

The attention of prospectors is specially called to the territory in the North-Western part of the Province of Quebec, north of the height of land, where important mineralized belts are known to exist.

PROVINCIAL LABORATORY.

Special arrangements have been made with the POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL of LAVAL UNIVERSITY, 228 ST. DENIS STREET, MONTREAL, for the analysis of minerals at very reduced rates for the benefit of miners and prospectors in the Province of Quebec. The well equipped laboratories of this institution and its trained chemists ensure results of undoubted integrity and reliability.

The Bureau of Mines at Quebec will give all the information desired in connection with the mines and mineral resources of the Province, on application addressed to

HONORE MERCIER,

Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, Quebec.
